

Writer Class Application

This year—not a part of the FFOB but held in conjunction with it—will be three writing classes held the day before on September 27, Sept. 20th Each class is $25 or 3 classes for $60. $30 per class at the door, Each class lasts 1-1/2 hours and is held at Port Hole Publications (179 Laurel St., Laurel Crossings Bldg, Old Town, Florence). Apply by September 20th to secure your space.

Class instructors:

- Karen Nichols, well-known Florence artist of many media and author of two novels, teaches How to Get Started on Your Book- Show Don't Tell at 2 p.m.
- Ellen Traylor, author of 21 books and owner Port Hole Publications that has published the works of more than a dozen authors, teaches Self-Editing and Style at 4 p.m.
- Dr. Veronica Esagui, chiropractic physician, author, interviewer on TV's Author's Forum in the Portland area, and the moving force behind the NE Book Festival in Portland's Pioneer Square and the Northwest Writers & Publishers Association, teaches about How to Promote Your Own Book at 7 p.m.

Applicant Name _____

Address _____

Contact email _____ Phone _____

Please Enroll me in:

- How to Get Started – Show Don't tell
- Self-Editing and Style
- How to Promote Your own Book

Writing Experience _____

Please bring a notebook or laptop for notes and writing exercises

Send payment with application to Port Hole Publications (see address above)

Payment may be made by check to Port Hole Publications, or by credit card: Visa/MC/Discover (#/exp/cvc) _____

Or by PayPal to porthole@centurytel.net

THANKS!