Hi Kelli

It's doubtful I will be at the meeting on Monday, so I want to thank you very much for making the proposals available on the newsletter. I'm sad to say, however, how disappointing I found them to be.

I find it hard to believe that all this creativity, if they really studied our area, didn't come up with one solid, good piece that showed off what we have more than anything else ... the sand dunes.

Of course I'm partial to the river and ocean, with my photography, and the kite version is really good, giving a feel for that energy but ... c'mon, we're not the kite city, take it north.

The ocean critters present some lovely artwork but some of it is a little creepy. Lol

I'm very much in favor of murals, but disappointed in these. Several are quite look alike in a kaleidoscope kind of way. If I understand it correctly, we are down to these shown, so I wish the best to all making the final choice.

At least it will give me some great photo shoots during the process to share at Coastal Life Thru My Lens. ;)

I really appreciate everybody's time and effort. I'm sure this represents many many hours and I hate to be negative ... makes me feel yucky ... but I did want to tell somebody my initial reaction.

You know what, in time I'll probably fall in love with whatever is chosen, so here is to the best choice and the coming New Year for Florence and all those who love her!

And thanks, Kelli, for all you do.
